

NEWS RELEASE

Stelligent Achieves Premier Consulting Partner Status in the AWS Partner Network

Achievement one of several AWS milestones for company in 2017

Reston, V.A. – November 28, 2017 – Stelligent, a technology services company specializing in DevOps automation and managed services on Amazon Web Services (AWS), today announced that it has gained Premier tier Consulting Partner status in the AWS Partner Network (APN).

The APN Premier Consulting Partner designation recognizes the top APN Consulting Partners globally that have distinguished themselves by investing significantly in their AWS practice. Companies that have gained this status have demonstrated deep expertise in delivering customer solutions on AWS. They have also helped a large number of customers run their applications on AWS. To be eligible, APN members must first have achieved APN Advanced Consulting Partner status, and met additional qualitative and quantitative requirements.

This achievement comes on the heels of several others this year for Stelligent's AWS practice, which required passing rigorous assessments and third-party audits. These include:

- Entry into the AWS Managed Service Provider \(MSP\) Program
- Attainment of the AWS Financial Services Competency
- Surpassing 100 AWS technical certifications

Stelligent was one of the first service providers to attain AWS DevOps Competency status back in 2015. It was also one of the first APN Consulting Partners to participate in the AWS Service Delivery Program.

"We are excited to recognize Stelligent into the exclusive group of Premier Consulting Partners in the AWS Partner Network," said Terry Wise, Vice President of Worldwide Partner Ecosystem, Amazon Web Services, Inc. "Stelligent has a proven track record of helping customers accelerate their journey onto AWS and has clearly demonstrated AWS expertise through its achievement of competencies in DevOps and Financial Services as well as the MSP Program and AWS Service Delivery Program."

"We're very pleased to have achieved Premier Consulting Partner status as we continue investing in our AWS expertise to add greater value for our customers," said Paul Duvall, Stelligent Co-founder, CTO and AWS Community Hero. "It's a reflection of the passion and innovative spirit we have on our team and our strategic focus on leveraging AWS. Looking forward, we're committed to doing even more to maximize the immense capabilities of AWS to help our clients bring greater speed, agility and efficiency to their application development processes, and deliver bigger and better outcomes for their businesses.”

About Stelligent

Stelligent is a technology services company that provides DevOps automation and Managed Services on Amazon Web Services. As an APN Premier Consulting Partner and an AWS Managed Service Provider with deep expertise in Continuous Delivery solutions, our services guide and empower customers to achieve increased agility, confidence and cost savings from their applications on AWS.

For more information, please visit: www.Stelligent.com.

###

Media Contact:

Andy Sherman

CMO, Stelligent

andy.sherman@stelligent.com

781-474-7732